ING-KEE was established at Calcutta. Our a is of finest quality, hence a large business as been done under the patronage of English merchants in late years. The fine quality of our tea having caused some evil disposed persons to apply our shop names to their inferior articles, thus our reputation and right is injured, and the English merchants are imposed upon by them. We have therefore brought this matter to the notice of the authorities, and will take immediate proceedings against, and bring to justice, any person who has infringed that, the business hitherto carried on for the style of the TAK-TAI Cotton and Yarn Firm, No. 26, Wing-Lok Street, and on the end of the 4th month (May 1872), which date no business whatsoever has transacted, and all accounts were settled disclosed. If hereafter any one of the part of the late firm should have dealings with one or take goods on credit or borrow any with the seal of the late TAK-TAI firm, itself is to be looked to for payment, the retained will not be responsible. This is
